CEO Review | John Logue

2018 was a year of considerable growth and exciting new developments for Suas. In Ireland, we increased the number of children supported in disadvantaged schools by 19.7% through one-to-one, literacy and numeracy programmes.

Our Irish Aid-funded global citizenship programme ('STAND') recorded the highest levels of participation in the organisation's history. 16,300 young people across Ireland engaged with our activities in 2018.

Internationally, we also expanded our impact. We sent 83 volunteer teaching assistants to volunteer with partner organisations in Zambia and India – an increase of 12% year-on-year.

With Irish Aid support, we also rolled out an exciting, technology-mediated teacher training programme in Zambia ('Fast Forward'). This pilot programme enabled 75 community school teachers to receive intensive training and classroom technology to better support 2,700 children in their classrooms.

We strengthened our funding relationships with existing corporate partners and philanthropic donors and established several new recurring funding relationships over 2018. The organisation ended 2018 with a surplus of €45,358, thanks in part to a 31% increase in income compared to 2017.

2018 was not without its challenges, however. Staff turnover continues to be a challenge for the organisation. In 2019, we must re-double our efforts to make Suas an employer of choice in the NGO sector.

Success also brought its own challenges. With every programme area growing rapidly, it is becoming increasingly challenging to capture the essence of what Suas is – the mission, the vision, the values.

Next year marks the final year of our 2017-2019 organisational strategy. With much achieved, focus will turn to re-capturing the essence of the organisation. To that end, we want our next 3 year strategy to meet three criteria:

- Provide a clear, singular, compelling mission and vision for the organisation.
- Ensure we are having a sustained and measurably impact on beneficiaries.
- Ensure the organisation is sustainably resourced (financial and human).

Finally, the successes of 2018 and our optimism for 2019 are only possible because of the commitment of our staff, volunteers, mentors, Board members, donors and the support and engagement of our partner schools and Irish Aid. A sincere thank you to all involved and for your role in helping us bring about change in the lives of children and young people in disadvantaged settings.

Best wishes, John

Chairperson Review | Bob Semple

The problem of literacy in Ireland has been well-understood for many years: “We know too that children who do not learn to read, write and communicate effectively are more likely to leave school early and in later life to be unemployed or in low skilled jobs, to have poorer emotional and physical health, to have limited earning power, and are more likely to be imprisoned.”

Source: The National Strategy to Improve Literacy and Numeracy among Children and Young People 2011-2020

Yet the latest OECD report suggests the problem is far from being solved (see panel across).

Suas is doing all it can – as the CEO’s report outlines, 2018 was a year of major growth and development. We reached record numbers of children. And our programmes for global citizenship and international education delivered more impact than ever.

It is gratifying that these achievements have not happened at the expense of our financial stability. 2018 saw a welcome improvement in our reserves, to the great credit of the Suas team who operated within the tightest of financial constraints.

The Board and Management must now turn to Suas’s next stage of development – with a new strategy due by the end of 2019. I am confident that the best has yet to come.

My thanks to all who make Suas the success it is – donors, staff, volunteers, fellow board members and more.

Bob Semple
Chair, Suas

Adult skills in Ireland today at or below Level One (5-level scale):

- Literacy 550,000 adults
- Numeracy 750,000 adults
- Using technology: 1 million +

These low levels indicate that individuals may not be able to fill in an application form, add up a bill, search the web, vote or help children with homework.

Risk Management

Suas works with children and young people. The nature of our work means that we take on a level of risk in our activities. We aim to minimise this through our ongoing risk assessment process and controls. The Audit and Risk Management Committee examines the effectiveness of the systems of internal operational and financial control annually and confirms the operating effectiveness of those systems to the Board.

The key components of Suas' internal control and risk management environment include the following:

- An approved plan and annual budget against which progress is reported on a regular basis, including bimonthly financial reporting of actual results compared with budgets and forecasts.
- Regular reviews across all areas of our operations with the results of each review reported to management and to the Board.
- Key policies on whistle-blowing, usage of IT, and in relation to child protection, health and safety, and complaints and reporting of same.
- Review the Board of risks at each board meeting.

Directors' Report | Governance

Vetting

Suas is fully compliant with the obligations of the National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Adults) Act, 2012. Suas applies Child Protection policies, which are based on Children First 2011 and best practice recruitment policies and procedures.

Reserves

In accordance with best practice, Suas has an explicit policy concerning reserves. Taking into account the needs of the organisation, this has been set at 3 months' running costs.

In recent years, fluctuations in fundraising (due mainly to the loss of an anchor donor), we fell below this level of reserves. Concerted efforts to broaden and deepen our funding base has enabled us to rebuild reserves. Suas' free reserves at 31 December 2018 are €116,365, representing 2.8 months' running costs.

The Board continue efforts to build reserves and monitor the position at each board meeting.

Our Work | Suas Ireland

Introduction

Suas is Ireland's leading charity to improve literacy and numeracy for children in Ireland's most disadvantaged schools. Suas has been supporting schools across Ireland to address the national crisis in literacy and numeracy for children in disadvantaged areas.

One in ten children in Irish schools has serious difficulty with reading or writing. However, in some disadvantaged schools this is as high as one in three students.

In the most recent PISA tests, the maths performance of Irish students was at "below average" standard. This all points to a national crisis in literacy and numeracy that must be addressed immediately.

Suas delivers measurable, evidence-based literacy and numeracy interventions to prevent school failure and reduce dropout. In partnership with designated disadvantaged (DEIS) schools, we support 8 – 14 year olds most at risk of failing in the Irish education system. Volunteer mentors are at the heart of the programme. They work 1-to-1 with girls and boys from DEIS schools nationwide.

Our literacy programme consists of 2 support interventions: Paired Reading and AcceleRead AcceleWrite. Our numeracy intervention is similar our literacy interventions in that it provides children who are struggling with numeracy an opportunity for repeated practice, further explanation and reinforcement, delivered in a 1-to-1 coaching session.

*We believe that,
for children in disadvantaged
communities,
literacy changes
everything.*

What's Next?

“Now we are embarking on our most ambitious work programme to date. We are harnessing our evidence-based experience and moving to the next level of measurable impact and success.

In so doing, we are targeting the most challenging cases – Ireland's most disadvantaged children who live in some of Ireland's poorest areas. Through a unique and tested mentoring system, and in partnership with Ireland's DEIS schools, we will work with 1,500 children next year to reverse the decline in their literacy and numeracy skills.

We will ensure they acquire the tipping point improvement in their ability and confidence to participate fully in their school life and wider social opportunities.”

Our Work | Suas International

Introduction

Suas runs two major programmes – a volunteering programme and a technology-mediated teacher training programme.

Our International Volunteer Programme offers young people the opportunity to volunteer as teaching assistants, working alongside local teachers in our partner organisations and schools in disadvantaged communities in India and Zambia. Teaching assistants focus primarily on English lessons with children aged between 4 - 18 years old.

Volunteers undergo intensive training that helps them to prepare for living and working with their teams overseas. The Global Perspectives strand of the programme helps volunteers understand the complex root causes behind the issues facing the communities in which they are working, and how they can continue to take action for change after the programme has ended.

Our technology-mediated teacher training programme, Fast Forward, aims to improve educational achievements and life opportunities for children in disadvantaged settings in sub-Saharan Africa. The programme is designed to address the barriers to quality education in disadvantaged communities – particularly the lack of educational resources, and lack of training for teachers.

What's Next?

“We will work with our partner organisation in Zambia, Zambia Open Community Schools, to create an expansion plan for Fast Forward. We will aim to maintain the number of volunteer teaching assistants sent to Zambia and India while improving the quality of volunteer training and partner capacity building.”

Suas International Team

Our Work | Suas International

- Our volunteers worked with over 3,000 children across Zambia and India.

Our Work | STAND (Global Citizenship Programme)

Introduction

Our Global Citizenship Programme, STAND, seeks to support the progressive engagement of third level students with global justice issues through an integrated programme of activities that correspond to different 'stages' of participation and learning:

'Inspire' activities to reach out to a new audience on campus, that might not have previously engaged with global issues.

'Educate' activities give students the opportunity to learn more about global development issues in an accessible way. They are framed as 'introduction to development' courses which don't assume knowledge on behalf of participants.

'Engage' activities for students who want to take action on an issue that they are passionate about. Typically these students have gained a deeper understanding of an issue, sometimes from having taken part in an 'Inspire' or 'Educate' event.

Activities include the STAND 8x8 Festival, STAND Global Issues Course, STAND Ideas Collective and STAND on Campus.

We believe in the ability of young people to create a just and sustainable world.

Our Work | STAND (Global Citizenship Programme)

2018 Highlights

Approximately 16,300 young people engaged with our activities in 2018, with activities delivered in 7 third level institutions across Ireland.

Key achievements in 2018 included:

- our highest number of attendees at the 8x8 Festival to date
- increased numbers engaging with STAND online
- the piloting of the STAND Book Club and a custom version of the Ideas Collective
- increased and improved development education inputs within the Volunteer Programme
- the development of a working relationship with the Union of Students in Ireland.

What's Next?

“We will continue to both improve the programme quality of our Global Citizenship Programme and expand programme reach through a new nationwide partnership with the Union of Students in Ireland (USI).”

STAND Team

Finances | Income

Total income for 2018 amounted to €1,221,029 of which €966,583 (79% approx.) was in the form of restricted funds.

The remaining €254,446 was unrestricted. Income increased by €290,525 (31%) compared to the previous year, largely due to higher donated services and increased income from Foundations and Trusts.

In 2018, Suas received increased funding from Aid Agencies, including a further extension of Irish Aid funding to support the Global Citizenship Programme.

SOURCES OF INCOME

Finances | Expenditure

Total expenditure for 2018 amounted to €1,175,671, an increase of €280,895 (31%) on the prior year expenditure of €894,776.

This increase was due mainly to once-off donated advertising services (increasing income and expenditure by €212,800), higher Volunteer Programme costs and the commencement of a new International Education Programme.

Expenditure on core programmes increased from €676,736 to €792,510.

The Cost of Generating Funds reduced from €60,976 to €22,320 due to an in-sourcing of fundraising activity.
